STATINTL

In reference to your letter of 14 August 1967, I find it difficult to be of much assistance in evaluating [REDACTED] for possible employment in your Department.

STATINTL

[REDACTED] worked as a photointerpreter in a division under my supervision for several years from about 1953 to 1956. During this time, he did excellent work both as a photointerpreter and supervisor of a small unit. He was highly competent in the technical and interpretive phases of his work.

After his unit was transferred from my supervision, I progressively lost contact with him except for occasional visits during his employment with [REDACTED]. I cannot, therefore, comment on his professional growth and development or his personal qualifications over the period of the last 10 or so years.

STATINTL

I would not hesitate to recommend him for his technical knowledge and abilities in the photointerpretation field.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ James A. Brammell
